

Have you ever considered taking on Medico-Legal work?

Are you keen to build on your work,
but cant find
the support to do so?

Medico-legal work can be hugely rewarding. Medical professionals' expertise is vital in helping the courts reach a decision and critical to the resolution of cases.

As quoted by one of our leading experts (a consultant neurologist & clinical lead in epilepsy), "help medical experts establish their own thriving medico-legal practice, through providing administrative support and guidance."

We can offer you the opportunity to reap the rewards that come with having your own business, without the day-to-day involvement of running one.

Why join SM Legal?

- we have long standing relationships within the legal profession & understand what is required from a medico-legal report.
- we act as the link between the solicitor and the medical expert.
- communication from a solicitor is a direct instruction to you, but as your skeleton business we handle everything other than the report writing itself.
- we arrange informal social gatherings, meeting with all of our consultants and giving them the opportunity to meet & discuss experiences as well as on-going professional development.
- we can sign experts up with a host of agencies.
- reap the intrinsic rewards of a more personable and team effort approach to providing expert reports, which are essential to the successful resolution of cases.

SM Legal welcome the services of many experts including:
